

There'll always be an England,

words & music Ross Parker & Hughie Charles

I give you a toast Ladies and gentlemen,
I give you a toast Ladies and gentlemen
    May this fair land we love so well,
    In Dignity and freedom dwell.
while worlds may change and go awry,
Whilst there is still one voice to cry!—
    There'll always be an England,
    While there's a country lane.
Wherever there's a cottage small
    Beside a field of grain
    There'll always be an England
    While there's a busy street.
Wherever there's a turning wheel
    A million marching feet.
    Red, white and blue
    What does it mean to you?
    Surely you're proud
    Shout it loud
    Britons awake!
    The Empire too
    We can depend on you.
    Freedom remains
    These are the chains
    Nothing can break.
    There'll always be an England
    And England shall be free
If England means as much to you
    As England means to me.
